

High Impact Entrepreneurship

3 Day Startup

3DS recruits 50 students with a wide range of backgrounds, and invites top entrepreneurs to mentor teams. The concept of 3DS is simple: validate a business idea and launch your company over the course of three days.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/3-day-startup/>

Raymond Ideas Challenge

The Ideas Challenge is designed to foster an entrepreneurial and innovative mindset by asking students to submit their “big idea” in both a written and video application. The top 40 ideas are selected and trained for oral presentations to judges from the business community awarding over $10,000 in cash prizes.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/ideas-challenge/>

Entrepreneurship Empowerment in South Africa

Students gain cultural immersion and work experience in an international setting where they work on consultant teams, assisting local emerging entrepreneurs in developing practical solutions to pressing problems in surrounding townships.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/entrepreneurship-empowerment-in-south-africa/>

Startup Aggieland

This student-designed business incubator, accelerator and co-working space helps qualified student-owned startups leverage Texas A&M University resources and private support without relinquishing equity ownership in their companies.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/startup-aggieland/>

The Dormcubator

Freshman get leadership opportunities at "The Dormcubator" with Startup Living Learning Community in Hullabaloo Hall. All students may apply to be Startup Wrangler consultants or Seed Fund student managers; join Collegiate Entrepreneurs Organization or host Startup Grind. Our C-E-O chapter was named among the top 3 in the U.S. out of 200-plus chapters in 43 states!

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/startup-aggieland/>

Start-up 101

Start-up 101 is an evening workshop series hosted by E-Society, for students, faculty, and the community to learn basic lessons in entrepreneurship.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/start-up-101/>

The Raymond Scholarship

The Center for New Ventures and Entrepreneurship (CNVE) sponsors a $5,000 per year scholarship through The Frank J. and Jean Raymond Foundation, Inc. This scholarship is for the benefit of Texas A&M University undergraduate students affiliated with Mays Business School.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/scholarships/>

The Seed Fund

Seed Fund seeks to place capital in promising early-stage ventures owned or being launched by Texas A&M Treps. Treps receiving fund capital are encouraged, in turn, to “pay-forward” these awards by committing to contribute additional future resources to their venture and to support the entrepreneurial ecosystem at Texas A&M.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/seed-fund/>

Silicon Valley Bank Trek

Students go on a three-day journey from Silicon Valley to San Francisco. During the course of this trek, students build a network of peers and advisers and gain valuable insights and advice to propel them to the next stage of their career development.

<http://mays.tamu.edu/center-for-new-ventures-and-entrepreneurship/silicon-valley-bank-trek/>

Entrepreneurship Society

The Entrepreneurship Society (E-Society) is a sanctioned TAMU Student Organization considered as the “first-step” for entrepreneurially-curious students. E-Society provides an easy path of introduction into the campus entrepreneurship community.

<http://esociety.tamu.edu/>