

JAMES BENJAMIN DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING DOCTORAL PROGRAM

The accounting Ph.D. program in the Mays Business School at Texas A&M University brings students to the leading edge of knowledge in the field. Our program has several important features:

- ▶ Rigorous Training: Our program exposes students to research in accounting and related disciplines and provides students with the training in microeconomic theory, econometrics, and statistics.
- ▶ Distinguished Faculty: Our accounting faculty includes distinguished scholars who publish extensively and are nationally recognized for their accomplishments.
- ▶ Collaborative Environment: Our faculty have a long history on mentoring and working closely with Ph.D. students. This approach allows students to see all phases of the research process from generating an idea and designing empirical tests to producing a complete manuscript.

Our program has proven to produce successful scholars. The 2019 BYU Accounting Research Rankings ranked our doctoral program #1 based on the research productivity of the Ph.D. students that graduated from our program between 2014 and 2019.
