Theresa M. Phinney
Texas A&M University   Mays Business School
Information and Operations Management
Wehner 320Y 979.845.7721
tphinney@tamu.edu

Work Experience

Sept. 2012-present	Senior Lecturer Texas A&M University, Department of Information and Operations Management Responsible for instructing students in Programming Logic and Design Course (undergraduate and graduate) (Visual Basic Language) and Object-Oriented Programming Application Development (Java)
Sept. 2005-Aug. 2012	Lecturer Texas A&M University, Department of Accounting Responsible for instructing students in Accounting Information Systems Information and Operations Management Responsible for instructing students (undergraduate and graduate) in Programming Logic and Design Course (Visual Basic Language)
Jan. 1999-Aug. 2005	Lecturer Texas A&M University, INFO Department Responsible for instructing students in Business OOP Java course and Programming Logic and Design Course (Visual Basic) Also served as Undergraduate Advisor from 2002-2003 and advised undergraduate students in course selection, graduation requirements, employment options and organizational activities available.
Sept. 1995 – Dec. 1998	Part-Time Lecturer Blinn College, Business and Computing Department Instructed students in Pascal Programming and in Introductory Course in Business Applications (Microsoft Office)
Sept. 1985 – May 1994	Lecturer and Undergraduate Advisor Texas A&M University, Computer Science Department Responsible for advising undergraduate Computer Science and Computer Engineering students, conducting freshman Conferences and enforcing upper-division requirements. Instructed students in Pascal Programming, Assembly Language and Introductory Data Structures courses.

Aug. 1981 – Aug. 1985   Programmer/Systems Analyst
Texas A&M University, Data Processing Center
Dept of Human Services, Austin, Texas
Developed applications for TAMU System components, TAES and TEES. Systems developed were accounting, inventory and personnel systems. Assisted in development of on-line 'welfare card' system for DHS of Texas.

Education

December 1984   Master of Science in Computer Science
Specialization in Business Management
Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.

August 1981   Bachelor of Science in Computer Science
Specialization in Accounting
Graduated Magna Cum Laude
Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.