MAJOR CONTRIBUTIONS OR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS DEAN AT TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

Achievements occurring during any individual's tenure in an administrative appointment necessarily represent the collected efforts of a large number of individuals, academic units, and administrative units. The following achievements have occurred during my tenure as Dean of Mays Business School at Texas A&M University

- Responsible for a $90.4 million total annual operating budget.
- Overall endowment for the College equals approximately $138 million.
- Modified the college's funding campaign priorities to enhance its national and international prominence.
- As of 4/15/20, Mays Business School is at 141% of its Lead by Example Campaign goal. We have raised $196 million versus the goal of $139 million set in 2012.
- Secured the largest single gift ever to the business school at Texas A&M University - $25 million (April 2017).
- Participated in standing up the Mays Innovation Research Center ($5.6 million gift).
- Participated significantly in securing a $10 million gift from the McFerrin family to name the McFerrin Center for Entrepreneurship.
- Supported the efforts to raise $10 million to name the Jim Benjamin Department of Accounting
- Led the efforts in securing the funding for the Brockman Scholars program, a full-ride scholarship program for TAMU STEM majors interested in pursuing a graduate business degree (MS-Business).
- Led the efforts to secure a $5 million gift to name the Sales Leadership Institute and the proposed coffee shop in the Wehner expansion.
- Secured seven incremental faculty positions for Mays Business School, to be used strategically.
- Created and filled the Assistant Dean of Learning Transformation and Academic Technology position in the Fall of 2018.
- Created and filled the Assistant Dean of Graduate Programs position in 2016.
- Created and filled the Assistant Dean for Diversity and Inclusion Initiatives position in 2016. Annie McGowan assumed the inaugural role, and then she was selected to fill the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Programs role in June of 2018. The Assistant Dean position will be changed to a director's role, which is now open.
- Created and filled the Director of Innovation and Strategic Planning role in 2015, and repurposed the position to Executive Director of Innovation and Strategic Planning in 2017. This position played an integral role in the development of the Mays Strategic Plan (2017-2021) and the position is helping with many aspects of implementing the plan.
- Formed the Mays Business School's Strategic Planning Initiative's Steering Committee and worked with the committee to engage the entire faculty and staff in strategic planning and formalize a new strategic plan for the College. The strategic plan includes adopting three grand challenges: (1) Entrepreneurship, (2) Energy (and Sustainability), and (3) Healthcare. Additionally, we will establish a strong presence in Data Analytics/Big Data. The strategic plan also includes enhancing research efforts, student outcomes, and advancing diversity and inclusion.
- Held multiple strategic planning Town Hall meetings (with faculty, staff, and alumni) on behalf of the College.

- Added multiple communication modes to the college's communication plan; in particular, the College is emphasizing social media more.
- Reorganized the Dean's Advisory Board into three committees - Marketing & Communications Committee, Student Recruitment and Career Development Committee, and Mays Business School's Development Committee (fundraising).
- Folded in the Dean's Advisory Council (formerly Young Alumni Advisory Board) into the Dean's Advisory Board.
- Oversaw the successful renewal of the College's AACSB re-accreditation for five more years. Duties included being the liaison to AACSB, assisting in preparation of accreditation report, scheduling accreditation visit, preparing response document to accreditation team, and continuous monitoring of progress toward concerns raised during the accreditation process. The peer review team visited on February 18-20, 2018.

MAJOR CONTRIBUTIONS OR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS DEAN AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

Achievements occurring during any individual's tenure in an administrative appointment necessarily represent the collected efforts of a large number of individuals, academic units, and administrative units. The following achievements have occurred during my tenure as Dean of the Sam M. Walton College of Business at the University of Arkansas.

- Responsible for a $37 million annual operating budget.
- Overall endowment for the College equals approximately $127 million.
- FY2014 fundraising goal was $28,900,796. Actual dollars raised equaled $32,919,173 (receipts, pledges, matches, and in-kind gifts).
- Secured 13 incremental faculty positions for the Walton College 2012-2015.
- Appointed a team of six faculty members to the leadership team in 2012.
- Added Associate Dean of Executive Education Programs position in 2014.
- Added multiple communication modes to the college's communication plan.
- Modified the college's funding campaign priorities to enhance its national and international prominence.
- Traveled to Russia to begin conversations with prospective partner universities.
- Signed a partnership agreement with a business school in Brazil.
- Signed a partnership agreement with two business schools in China.
- Signed a partnership agreement to establish the Walton MBA Program in Panama
- Reorganized the Dean's Executive Advisory Board into three committees - Marketing & Communications Committee, Student Recruitment and Career Development Committee, and Walton Campaign Arkansas Committee.
- Organized and led multiple strategic planning meetings (with faculty, staff, and alumni) on behalf of the Walton College of Business.
- Formalized five key strategic growth initiatives for the Walton College of Business: (1) School of Global Retail Operations and Innovation, (2) School of Innovation and Entrepreneurship, (3) Supply Chain Management, (4) Data Analytics/Big Data, and (5) Extending our globalization efforts. The strategic plan also includes enhancing research efforts and student outcomes, and advancing diversity and inclusion.
- Launched an online General Business Degree, effective Fall 2014 (the announcement was picked up by CNN Money). The four-year degree will be 100% online, the first of its kind at University of Arkansas.
- Secured approval for a Student Service Fee to enhance the Walton College's Career Center and Writing Center, effective Fall 2014.
- Expanded the Executive MBA to two cohorts (in progress).

MAJOR CONTRIBUTIONS OR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS DEAN AT LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY (LSU)

Achievements occurring during any individual's tenure in an administrative appointment necessarily represent the collected efforts of a large number of individuals, academic units, and administrative units. The following achievements have occurred during my tenure as Dean of the E. J. Ourso College of Business at Louisiana State University.

- Responsible for a $30 million annual operating budget.
- Overall endowment for the College equals approximately $52 million.
- Raised $15.4 million (includes pledges and matches; July 2008-May 2010).
- Raised $35 million in external funds for the new Business Education Complex in concert with the Senior Advancement Director, and the Louisiana Business Building Oversight Committee (July 1, 2008 – January 1, 2010). Funds raised for this project include a State match of $30 million. Received funding plan approval from the LSU Board of Supervisors in August 2009 to proceed with the construction of the $60 million Business Education Complex. Broke ground on March 19, 2010 and held the ribbon-cutting ceremony on March 2, 2012. Secured Steve Forbes as keynote speaker. The faculty and staff moved into the new Business Education Complex in May 2012.
- Raised $700,000 for the Dean's Excellence Fund, $850,000 for the Departmental Development Fund, $800,000 in chairs and professorships, and $135,000 in scholarships (July 1, 2008 – June 1, 2010).
- Successfully obtained approval from the legislature and LSU System to add to the differential tuition for the Flores MBA program. The additional proceeds equate to approximately $500,000 per year.
- Initiated two globalization committees: an academic committee and a Dean's Advisory Council committee.
- Initiated the Emerging Markets Initiative building on the successes of the China Initiative. The emerging markets targeted at that time were Brazil, India and China. We actively pursued opportunities for study abroad, student exchange, faculty exchange, and collaborative research projects with universities in the emerging markets. Formed a partnership with University of Sao Paulo in June of 2009.
- Added more study abroad opportunities and international internships to the Flores MBA program by focusing on the emerging markets. These improvements and other efforts resulted in the Flores MBA program receiving a ranking of 26th (among public schools) by Forbes for the first time in the Spring of 2009. Eduniversal ranked the business school 49th in the world in 2008 and 48th in 2009 among internationally-known business schools.
- Developed the Dean's Seminar Series on Global Research, Education and Practice to provide students with exposure to scholars from universities abroad and executives of multinational businesses.
- Applied for a $1.4 million U.S. Department of Education grant to establish a Center for International Business Education and Research (CIBER), which would enhance our international efforts.
- Restructured operations of the Stephenson Disaster Management Institute (SDMI). The result of which led to the establishment of a Board of Experts which includes nationally-recognized members, and created a strategic shift in the direction and focus of SDMI. In 2010, for example, SDMI with the Gulf Coast Center for Evacuation & Transportation Resiliency and the University of New Orleans partnered to present the National Evacuation Conference held in New Orleans. The conference brought together academics, nonprofit and for-profit organizations, consultants, emergency managers, and transportation planners to discuss evacuation planning for cities and regions across the United States.

- Worked with the LSU Chancellor to move SDMI out of the College of Business to the University level to increase SDMI's capacity for multidisciplinary research and professional development.
- Enhanced the branding and imaging campaign for the E. J. Ourso College of Business and the Flores MBA program with assistance from the marketing and public relations committee, the Flores MBA program director, and the Alumni and Public Relations Director. Developed an overall communication and media strategy to raise the profile of the E. J. Ourso College of Business in both the business and academic communities. Changed our marketing strategies to enhance the use of electronic media. Key outputs of this process are the Ourso on the Geaux and Ourso Experience eNewsletters (electronic publications sent monthly to our constituents), and an annual Stakeholders' Report (which recognizes all donors to the E. J. Ourso College of Business). The rankings noticeably improved.
- Reorganized the Core Executive Committee (Associate Deans, Assistant Deans and Department Chairs) including formalizing new responsibilities for the Executive Associate Dean as well as responsibilities for a new position: Associate Dean for Research and Economic Development—to increase sponsored research and external funding.
- Worked with the college's Core Executive Committee and the Dean's Advisory Council to re-write the strategic plan for the E. J. Ourso College of Business. The revised strategic plan included overall goals and objectives, strategies for achieving those goals and objectives, and key performance metrics to measure progress. The resulting document served as the basis for reaffirmation of accreditation by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)—International. Reaffirmed in 2012.
- Supervised the AACSB re-accreditation process. Duties include assisting in preparation of accreditation report, scheduling accreditation visit, preparing response document to accreditation team, and continuous monitoring of progress toward concerns raised during the accreditation process.
- Established the five key strategic growth initiatives for the College of Business: (1) Completing the fundraising needed to build the new Business Education Complex, (2) Fundraising to enhance PhD student stipends, (3) Extending our globalization efforts, (4) Enhancing diversity, and (5) Creating a Supply Chain Management (SCM) initiative.
- Inspired the creation of a new Entrepreneurship Fellows Program for undergraduate students interested in entrepreneurship, and helped secure the seed money from corporate donors. The program is designed to raise the awareness of entrepreneurship among undergraduate students of all majors.
- Helped launch the LSU Entrepreneurship Boot camp for Disabled Veterans program, which is part of a consortium led by Syracuse. Contacted Dean Mel Stith to help launch the partnership.

MAJOR CONTRIBUTIONS OR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS CENTER DIRECTOR

Sales Excellence Institute/Program for Excellence in Selling at University of Houston

- Developed and led the Sales Excellence Institute (SEI) and Program for Excellence in Selling (PES) as the Founding Executive Director. PES is a nationally-recognized curriculum targeted to undergraduates and MBA students who are interested in professional selling and sales management. It includes a strong emphasis on experiential learning in which students engage in hands-on selling and sales management as reinforcement of the principles learned in class. SEI encompasses PES, plus academic research partnerships and Executive Education.

- Created and implemented a six-course curriculum: (Professional Selling; Advanced Professional Selling; Customer Relationship Management; Sales Practicum; Sales Management; and Key Account Selling). The sales certificate and minor are open to all majors and allows students to receive degree-eligible credit.
- Coordinated sixteen sections of Professional Selling and Sales Management per year. Helped adjunct sales instructors prepare their course syllabi, and answered questions about classroom management, testing and administrative procedures.
- Solicited and received cash commitments from 30 high-profile (national and multinational) company partners and managed a self-generated budget. Dollars generated through the sales center equated to a $10 million endowment.
- Received in-kind support from IBM, AVAYA and Salesforce.com to establish a Customer Relationship Management laboratory which features 38 work stations for students to learn how to leverage technology in the sales process.
- Secured survey and objective sales performance data from SEI partner companies in support of doctoral student dissertations.
- Secured a student fee which enabled PES to hire permanent staff.
- Hired and managed PES/SEI staff and adjunct instructors.
- Developed an alumni association for the Program for Excellence in Selling.
- Coached sixteen sales students for regional and national collegiate sales competitions 1997-2006. Won the national championship in 2004.
- Worked with PES instructors and students to create and coordinate semi-annual Sales Career Fairs, which are recruiting events for companies interested in hiring graduates of PES. Students sell recruiting booths, advertising, and refreshment sponsorships (Spring 1998).
- Worked with PES Key Account Selling students to create and implement the Graduation and Induction ceremony (Spring 2001). Sales students sell companies on sponsoring SEI and PES.
- Created and implemented "Sales Career Day" (Fall and Spring semesters) for businesspeople to speak and network with students in the Professional Selling course (Fall 1997).
- Secured a donation from a PES corporate sponsor to restore the Behavioral Lab, which is used to videotape students giving mock sales presentations.
