Becker CPA Review (Nov. 2012 – Present) Instructor

College Station, TX

- Teaches the review course for approximately 200 students for the Financial, Regulation, Business, and Auditing sections of the CPA exam.

Societal Impact Statement: In my financial reporting, systems, and auditing courses, students have opportunities to see the influential role that accounting information plays in business and used in our society, and the importance for that information to be complete, accurate, and relevant. My courses are designed to give students multiple opportunities to connect their learning with real-world data obtained from my collaboration with current professionals. I also strive to give back to my profession through leadership roles within professional organizations.
